

Hi, it's Ginger, Galexis' channel. The blog here at the end of January and the beginning of February is a compilation of future looks and advice given by Galexis over the month of January. I hope this will be useful for you in navigating this year ahead.

How the Future Changed Unexpectedly

Last year in September, Galexis looked towards 2023 and it looked very intimidating. There was a "mountain" of crisis sitting in January and February, a level of intensity higher than normal, and probably connected to world events, perhaps even the risk of nuclear war.

However, the mountain began to move in time so that we hit the mountain in late November instead of late January. Everyone moved through this intense time period and by the end of the year, as the planet mercury went retrograde, an indicator of needing to go inward, we all needed a break, yes? During the retro period, people assessed their year and began releasing the past, releasing that which was not working for them.

The January Consciousness Shift and What it Means for You

By mid-month, the new moon came and Mercury went direct. This enabled a huge shift to take place. And what Galexis saw then was totally different than what they had anticipated from the perspective of September.

The density of reality had cleared and an openness, a big space showed up, boundaries were expanded, so a sense of freedom and possibility arrived. There is just SO MUCH MORE SPACE to create now. And obstacles have melted away or are on the sidelines for now.

What this means is that there is no main theme or issue worldwide or personal to focus upon. You can have an obstacle free life here, at least a magical flow life for a few months! Or longer!

Time to Stretch; March and April

In March, the spring equinox initiates new action and manifestation for the year – at least for the northern hemisphere. Tremendous creativity is available, and you would do good to remain fluid and flexible NOW. This is a time to imagine out of your usual box. Stretch! Don't nail down a plan or commit yourself to something long term if you can help it – unless you are truly authentically passionate about it.

Do NOT motivate yourself by fear/worry, guilt, anger, scarcity, or pressure yourself to be someone you're not. Follow your heart. Stay grounded in yourself. Connect with your Team and learn to rely upon them in a helpful Universe. Galexis has spoken many times before, that if you hold up your resonance and maintain it, your life through tough times in the world will be easier than most, your burdens will feel lighter, and you will have more magical synchronicities working for you in the flow.

If you don't know or remember how to keep up your resonance, please listen to the Galexis blog of September 2022. In April 2022, Galexis also discussed how to stay upbeat despite all the craziness and turmoil in the world.

2023's Political Movement; The People Rise Up

This doesn't mean that you won't have tough times, because humanity will be going through challenges, especially as more and more people awaken to how they have been fooled, taken advantage of, and their desire to create a better life for themselves and their families has been made unnecessarily harder by forces they thought were benign. This means that you can't trust authorities or blindly go along with

The lights of peoples' spirits are turning on. People are becoming more aware of and outraged about authoritarianism, oligarchs and billionaires dominating the cultural narrative, government speaking for corporate profits rather than for the people, influential money men who shape policy, and also world NGO's who want to govern (control) you by sidestepping democracy and your personal choices. The level of control of media, policy, and narrative has been increasing and is moving towards a peak intensity in the near future (within a very few years).

For this reason, there will be more uprisings, more rebellions, more protests, and more demands made by an angry populace. People will rise up around the world and stand up for truth and light. They will likely fight for their free choices, especially in the courts.

You will see more resistance from the ruling class as journalists will insist on the corporate-government hegemony. Along with this, there will also be more turbulence in the supply chains. The elite, the oligarchs, corporatocracy, and the ruling class want to maintain the status quo, and many are too intimidated to protest.

Your Future Your Choice

But you personally do not have to support the ongoing takeover. In fact, you came here to this planet at this time precisely to make the grand consciousness shift yourself. This is a year of emergence of your truer self, of your creative dreamer self, a year of liberation from the darkness of the past. Just as you can emerge this year, you can also see how the new cultures of egalitarianism and sharing are emerging, and the formation of new kinds of communities, new ways of redoing the money system, and a creative foment in social-cultural evolution.

This is a free will universe, which means that this year can go well for you as long as you are in your power and making choices. Do not let anyone else, no matter how benign and caring for you they may appear to be, make your choices for you. Do not comply with dictates and intense social pressure to do something against your own self-interest or be someone you are not. And know that the evolution of humankind that you are participating in is very solidly moving towards an egalitarian society, a partnership society rather than the win-lose model, the Aquarian Age culture, one of equality, inclusion, and individual freedom.

Make your choice to be free, loving, empowered, and to rely on your Spiritual Team. Know that you are on your Soul Path and you are returning Home to the Divine. Keep up your Resonance by remembering this and choosing this no matter what.

April's Creativity

April is where the big changes start to happen. Galexis sees lots of lights and colors swirling in April as creativity, imagination, and epiphanies allow for consciousness breakthroughs and leaps to new awareness levels and intuitive capacities. Listen to your inner voice and if you haven't been listening, learn to! From there, a flow can begin – a dynamic, magical, divine FLOW of power– moving deep into the year with your intentions of self-expression and your choices.

If you are interested, this is also the time in which the planet Pluto – the outermost planet - moves out of Capricorn and into the sign of Aquarius. Pluto symbolizes the transformation and evolution of collective consciousness as it holds a grander perspective. Capricorn symbolizes top-down governance, authoritarian regimes, institutions and their influence and control, corporate influence taking over all areas of life, the patriarchy, and personal and professional dominators. Pluto has been chipping away at this top-down system that works well only for the 1%. And it is starting to transform.

The sign of Aquarius symbolizes free thinking, expanded boundaries, reaching into the unknown and adventuring into the new. It's the sign of rebellions such as the French Revolution that started a cascade of freedom around the world the last time Pluto moved into Aquarius. In the early 90's, several closer-in planets moved from Capricorn into Aquarius and that was when the Berlin Wall came down. So, this is a potent time in the world and you can use it as a potent freeing time for yourself too.

I was a professional astrologer and wrote a book on Pluto back in 1984 with predictions for this time. When I went back to the book and checked to see what I wrote about Pluto in Aquarius, I was floored at how accurate it was. So, I'm sharing a link to this in the blurb to this blog: <https://galexisspirit.com/downloads/plutoinaquarius.pdf>

Utilizing Your Year; The Themes and the Details

Emergence; Moving Beyond Polarization

Galexis says that if they were to name the year 2023, they could call it a year of your emergence, or perhaps a year of creativity and imagination. And the power of this really kicks in as of the Spring Equinox but flourishes in April with the new energies.

To utilize this year the best you can, start by being aware of where you put your attention. Don't get lost in media distractions or in cultural fights. Do not "other" people. There's no "either-or." Stop taking sides and see and feel both sides. If you are unaware of what those who hold other views than your own feel and think, you can be manipulated by the media, by propaganda. See Galexis' video blog of October 2022 on how to stay in the magical in-between.

The one who is propagandized generally thinks he or she is right and that all the smart people hold his or her point of view. Those holding another point of view are stupid, misinformed, pathetic, ignorant, etc. Don't let yourself go there. This is an ego distraction that you don't want and taking sides, looking down on others, or even fearing them will stand in your way. Put into your Mindspace by media, these judgements and conflicts only block your flow. Don't let media egg you on.

The Flow of Life

Instead, this year is about being in the divine flow of Life. If you can hold the in-between, you will be okay and unaffected by propaganda, misinformation, etc. and you will have a clear perspective outside the extremes. The in-between perspective is the synthesis of ideas that include everyone and resolves the paradoxes. Recognize that any existential threat or fear hanging over you and your network are most likely put there by the media narrative machine. Remain aware and don't go to sleep now.

Opportunities for Positive Changes

The year of 2023 will be filled with options, opportunities, and shifts, changes of direction, and abrupt starts and stops of flow. Remember, your personal reality is up to you. If you hold the in-between and stay true to yourself, the world's problems won't get you down.

Imagination for Your World

Gift to your world your imagination, envisioning a world without those tough and painful problems. Feel the freedom that that reality would be for you and everyone. Imagine everyone safe to hold his or her own point of view with love and respect. This brings peace, and you need it this year, as nuclear Armageddon is threatening.

Laughter

Interestingly, even in the face of the threat of massive destruction going on around the globe, a major message for the year from Galexis is about living lightly. Don't take yourself so seriously. This creativity and envisioning is not some obligatory work to earn your metaphysical stripes or to manifest a good life. Manifestation in the material world is not the object here, but celebrating yourself in those higher levels of creativity, a God-given trait, is. There's no win or lose, no achieve or fail in your creation process this year. It is about discover and play!

Imagine for Your Future

Creation requires fun and a stretched-out imagination, not diligence. You need to laugh a LOT this year! You are not to try to solve the world's problems but to imagine yourself beyond them enjoying yourself. And then try to enjoy yourself right here and now! Imagine your optimal, most-fun and fabulous future self and hang out with her or him and pick up some tips on how to live that higher, lighter resonance in a free, empowered, love-filled life trusting your Team's support.

Free Yourself Up

Don't take on any more burdens than you have to. You are not the rescuer of everyone, you are the dreamer of a new way. You need to be the one living as if you are already in the new world.

Protect and Care for Your Body

Take care of your body this year, especially with protecting yourself from excess pollution, microwaves and 5G, and toxins in your food, water, and home cleaning products. Detox your body – eat clean, eat light, drink a lot of clean water (spring water is best) and move more. Activate and energize your “youthing” process. You'll see why when you reach further and deeper places later on in this year.

Express Your Creativity

Free yourself up to create something, to express something of your uniqueness, whether it be to write poems, songs, or even novels. And you can paint – express yourself with finger paints like you did when you were a child. Do something abstract – play with color. Go online and search for creative, complex and colorful art to look at. Search for “mandalas pictures” for example and just look at them. Enjoy their patterns, their colors, their vibrancy. This stimulates your creativity, your brain, and youthens you!

Embracing a New Attitude

Do something different this year or take your interests to a new level. But still, don't do it as work. Don't do it as effort. And most of all, do NOT push yourself to complete everything as an obligation, as this kicks in the inner Slave Driver and you will exhaust your body and spirit. And especially, don't do anything to earn spiritual brownie points. Do it as play, divine play. Laugh if you make a mistake. No judgment here, no perfection, no best correct way. Don't do things one way because you've done them that way before. Throw out the tried and true and see if you can do your regular activities from a different perspective or even a different sense of order.

We know it can be frustrating if your plans don't work out the way you want them to. But allow yourself the adventure of exploring other plans or ideas. i.e., be flexible and move with the flow. Trust that it's taking you to a good place.

Tuning Yourself Up

And finally, tune up your chakras regularly and send love from your heart chakra to those you love, to the causes you support, to the earth, to leaders of state, to anyone to lift consciousness around the world. Humanity is going through an upgrade now, and you are part of this. This is not hard to do. But give yourself permission to be a remedy for your world, by being the lightest and brightest and most fun person you can be this year.

Even if you suffer health, financial, and relationship challenges, keep your head up. Keep your resonance up the best you can and look for divine humor and synchronicities in everything. You'll find your way through things better than you would've expected.

If you are suffering health issues or are just down in the dumps, attend Daniel the Healer's free Spiritual, Psychic, and Energetic Tune Up Sessions, given every Wednesday and Thursday. Sign up for them at <https://ihealyourpain.com/>.

Remember

Remind yourself that you are a spiritual being of light and love who is experiencing a physical incarnation. You chose to be here to gain the experience you are now getting. And you also chose to help bring in a new consciousness on the planet by raising yours.

Know there is a better world coming, and know that you are on your Spiritual Path which leads you to Home, the place of Oneness, of Total Safety and Love, to total acceptance of being, to the I AM. This is your destiny, your future.

And this year, you can make a major leap of consciousness when you are ready. Galexis sees that you are ready, and more and more people are ready now with you around the world. You are part of a healing movement of light in the world that will INEVITABLY lead to massive changes, more chaos, but also more love and light in the world.

Blessings
Ginger (for Galexis)
